

CORBETT'S THIRD PAYMENT.

Certified Check for $3,000 Received by the Stakeholder.

Zimmerman at Koester & Bial's—Other Sporting Gossip.

A Chicago despatch says that Stakeholder Will J. Davis, of the Columbia Theatre, has received from Jim Corbett the latter's third payment of the stake money for his match with Peter Jackson. The amount sent to Davis was $3,000, and it came in the shape of a certified check. Corbett wrote a brief letter, but had nothing to say about his controversy with Jackson. The next and final payment of $3,000 will be made in May. Jackson's money will be posted on schedule time.

The fact that these two men are so prompt in posting their money ought to be pretty good evidence that both are sincere in their desire for a fight. A great many may not think so, but that seems to be the case whenever there is talk of a big pugilistic event. Notwithstanding all the talk about pugilism having received a black eye, history shows that when two men are very much in earnest they generally manage to get together. Said a well-known student of the pugilistic game the other day:

"It is not so much that there are no places to pull off a mill in that there are such few bouts of late, it is rather because a great lot of fighters are about who don't want to fight. Although some big finish-contest boxing clubs have passed from existence, and fat purses with them, there seems always to be a fighting place and a bit of a purse for any reputable honest scrapper who looks for them. Suppression of boxing in a fighting country like America is like one trying to keep several corks under water with a single finger; while one is being pressed down others are bobbing up."

The "feature" at Koester & Bial's next Monday evening will be Zimmerman, the champion bicyclist, who has just furnished a sensation by turning professional. Mister Zimmerman—so the press agent puts it—with a party of friends, occupy "the large proscenium boxes C and D," which will be decorated in French and American colors and other designs appropriate to the occasion. In "Zimmy's" honor the occasion will be known as Wheelmen's Night. Delegations will be on hand from the principal bicycle clubs. He will be further honored by a grand promenade after the show, during which friends and admirers may have the spectacle of a contest of shaking this great man's hand, gazing on his New Jersey features, and wishing him a bon voyage. With Corbett and Zimmerman both in Europe, the country will be desolate indeed.

The Columbia Athletic Club expects to make its boxing show next Monday night the best it has yet given. There will be five six-round bouts between men who have good reputations for stilet prowess. The programme will be as follows: Sam Kelly vs. Bob Cunningham, Billy Ahearne vs. Jim Holmes, Jimmy Lynch vs. John Gorman and Al O'Brien vs. Joe Harmon.

It is now definitely announced that the Irish cricketers will come to this country next September under the auspices of of the Belmont Cricket Club, of Philadelphia, and not by the arrangement of the International Match Committee, as previously announced. The "Irish Gentlemen," as they are termed, will sail about Sept. 1, and play their first game in this country on Sept. 10. They will be captained by J. W. Meldon, who held a similar office in the team that came over two years ago. The visitors will probably play five games, one in New York, one in Boston and three in Philadelphia.

Preparations are being made in this city among the sporting men for an excursion to Boston next Thursday to witness the water-wrestling battle between Joe Walcott and Tom Tracy, for a purse of $1,000 and a side bet of $1,000. Walcott is one of Tom O'Rourke's friends. Tracy is a step-brother to Dan Creighton, and many "good judges" claim he is the better fighter of the two. The battle will take place under the auspices of the Cribb Club, and tickets can be obtained from John E. Khardt, who is the Club's New York representative.

President Van der Horst, of the Baltimore Baseball Club, has reserved 150 seats for the New York contingent at the opening game in Baltimore next week. The seats are right behind the New York's bench, so that the New Yorks will be supported by able rooting.

An international bicycle race meet between Belgium and England will probably be held at the Herne Hill track June 23.

Another peculiar bicycle race was decided recently in Paris. M. Lohseleur defeated M. Sigries, allowing the latter one lap in every two. M. Sigries was handicapped by being put six years old.

At a meeting of the Harvard Inter-class Athletic Committee last night the following class captains were chosen for the inter-class boxing and wrestling matches to be held at the Harvard Athletic Club to-night:

The total score in the big pool match in progress at Cleveland is: Clearwater, 84; De Oro, 73.

Long-delayed finals of the Metropolitan Association boxing championships will be decided at the New York Athletic Club to-night.

Both class A and B men will be eligible to compete in the Irvington-Milburn road race.

A Barometer of Business.

We are glad to report a great improvement in trade at the old Cowperthwait furniture and carpet establishment, 193 to 206 Park Row, near Chatham Square. Last Winter the customers of this house, and they represent every class in the whole community, bought very little, and they delayed as much as possible their payments to the firm, relying, of course, on its reputation for generosity. Now with their new trade conditions and plenty of work, people are rapidly catching up in the matter of payments, and are buying pretty freely, too. The Cowperthwaits keep everything for housekeeping.

WILL A YOUNGSTER WIN IT?

The Great Suburban Handicap May Go to a Three-Year-Old.

Mr. Burke Will Preside at Chicago—Other Turf Gossip.

The entries for the Suburban, exclusively published in "The Evening World's" 6 O'Clock Extra yesterday, were the talk of the town last night. It is doubtful if a better class of entries ever delighted the eye of the racing enthusiast. There are eleven three-year-olds entered in the event. A three-year-old has never yet won this great stake, but the wonderful bid of Lamplighter two years ago has no doubt emboldened the owners of three-year-olds to have a try this year. The two-year-olds of last year were of a higher class than usual. There are several that should turn out to be cracking good three-year-olds, and the writer will not be very much surprised if one of them breaks the cherished tradition and wins the Suburban Handicap. The alleged division contains nothing that one can boast of. There are no phenomena among the four-year-olds, and if the younger horses keep up their high-class records of last year they will be important factors in the big handicaps this season. To the writer's mind Senator (drily looks the pick of the lot. The fact that he is in the hands of a past master of the art of training, a man who has brought out Salvador, Tammany and other invincible kings of the turf, augurs well for his success. With his weight, which may be about 100 pounds, he ought to run close to 300. This is making rather an elaborate guess, but if the colt runs up to his form of last year it will not be far from wrong.

It is with genuine regret that racegoers will greet the announcement that Judge Burke will be unable to accept the splendid offer of the new Jockey Club and preside at Eastern race-courses this season. Washington Park declared that it was in no mood to give up the services of the best judge in the country, and though Mr. Burke's contract was only verbal he did not feel that he could, in all honor, break his word. An arrangement may be made for Mr. Burke's services next season. The Jockey Club will have hard work to find his equal this season.

The letter sent by the Monmouth Park Association to the newspaper men who were ruled off last season is distinctly humorous. It is, nevertheless, in keeping with the ludicrous and absurd actions of this Association. The letter states that resolutions were adopted "reinstating you to the privileges at Monmouth Park, N. J., as enjoyed by you heretofore."

Radbourn was formerly pitcher for the Boston Club.

BEN FRANKLIN'S COLLEGE.

Features of the University of Pennsylvania, Founded by Him.

There are no dormitories on the grounds of the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. So the life there is different from student life at Yale or Harvard. The buildings are all devoted to educational work and are numerous and beautiful. Especially attractive are College Hall and the Library.

The advantages of this University will be treated in the Sunday World to-morrow. While the habits and customs here are democratic, it is an odd coincidence that Protection is taught in the class-room and Free Trade is denounced. You will want to read about the interest the students take in athletics, and what the medical students do to pass the time pleasantly between the hours for taking their medicine.
